WENATCHEE MARKET COMMENTS & OBSERVATIONS:

Median home price shown over the last year indicates fluctuations between roughly $230,000 upward to $255,000. Since the peak in March of last year, the median price has softened somewhat and due in part to the relatively level supply of homes for sale.

As you can see, the average days on market range between roughly 75 days to 180 days in all price categories. Within the various price ranges average days on market varies significantly. The $200,000 and $400,000 price points clearly have shorter listing times. As you move away from these, listing times increase noticeably.
